Hon. Israel Washburn, Jr., "Speaks for Himself."

The Bangor Journal having affected to deny that Hon. Israel Washburn, Jr. is a leader of the Republican movement, and misconstrued Mr. Washburn's language of last year, as quoted by us, that gentleman has now addressed the following letter to the editor of that paper.

Orono, June 11 h, 185

To the Editors of the Bangor Journal,

I am not unwilling to "speak for myself" and define my position in reference to the political organization in our State.

I have never acted, and desire to fly with party principles, I never can act with the party which supports the administration of Franklin Pierce—which opposes the repeal, so much of the Nebraska act as opens the final country of Kansas and Nebraska to slavery—which professes a willingness the slave holding oligarchy has demanded liberty, to all who acquire one whatever shade of color he may be, after Now can I act with any party, or any body of men, who sympathize in opinion and feeling with this Democratic Administration party, or will co-operate with it or lend it aid and comfort, thereby certainly, though it may be indirectly and unintentionally—strengthening the slave power in the Republic. I cannot co-operate with any party or body of men whose action on all essential questions, must be controlled by the Whig power of the South, and the entire Party Know Nothings of New York. In the South there is but one Party—that of the old Whig, united among nearly all the leading men, have left their former organization and joined with the South there is now no Whig party South and in New York the Whig party is extinct. The Seward Whigs, so called, have entered into and form now Know Nothings. Fillmore Whigs, and those who cannot in conscience, unite with these classes, do not belong to the Whig party of the North, but to that portion of the people who believe the principles of Washington and Webster, Clinton, who first broached the doctrine of Human Rights and to the constitutional liberty as well as duty derived from the path of duty and principle. In extending to and less support not upon the less, old mad and unchecked as the party and with it.

Regarding the Slavery Extension question as the leading, if not the only question of the time, I must, with those, who, while thinking as I think in respect to it, will by the action and co-operation which they propose, most surely tend to uphold the paper cave which every friend and lover of the liberty principle should

Do.

The Journal agrees with me, "that the great question respecting the designs of the Executive and slave oligarchy now overrides all the old party divisions and their party organizations of the country. They must give way to it—they have already given way. MEN WHO THINK ALIKE MUST ACT TOGETHER."

Upon this question, paramount to all others now pending, The Journal is in agreement with the Free soilers, the Baltimore Democrats, as well as with nine-tenths of the Whigs of this State. Why should it not act with them? Why does it not? The question, it admits, is first and greatest. Why should The Journal oppose these men incessantly, not to say bitterly, even though it may disagree with them, in many of them, as I doubtless do, on other and subordinate questions.

Coalitions between men of similar views are natural and easy and justifiable, because founded on principle but between those of opposite opinions, they can be hardly otherwise than without principle of justification. Why should The Journal seem to favor the pro-slavery administration party in preference to what is known as the Republican organization?

In Tuesday's issue the editor intimates he would sooner go into convention with the old line Democracy than with those who have left obliged to attend on that party on account of the pro-slavery tendencies. I must beg leave to say that in this respect I concur more nearly with the views of the late Hon. Luther Severance, expressed in a letter which I had the honor to receive from him, and which I have before me as follows:—"I can't say that in the movement of the Democratic party my sympathies are atte, either with the Barnburners. I would much sooner coalesce with them than with the Wild Oats."

The Journal thinks differently. I am sorry for it. A good cause loses its effective advocacy. But if it perceives that it can, by the course it has pointed out, render better service to the cause of his recognized, and the views it has endorsed, than by any other, it is not for me to complain. Nor will the Journal complain, if differing as we do in regard to means and instrumentalities, I continue its labor earnestly and in good faith, for the objects which we alike desire to promote, and which, in my poor judgment, can best be advanced so far as action in this State is concerned, and in the present position of parties, State and National, by acting with what is known as the Republican party.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
I. WASHBURN, Jr.

There has never been any question in regard to Mr. Washburn's position. Ever since the commencement of the Republican movement, he has been free and outspoken in its favor, as presenting the only hope of practical results in favor of freedom, and in resistance of the encroachments of slavery. In the above letter he now presents the whole matter in a complete and concise form. The arguments in favor of a practical union among northern men who think alike, upon the vital issues of the day, are really unanswerable—and the inconsistency of men who, like the editor of the Journal, concede to the soundness of the doctrine, but still are against it, is admirably shown up. The Journal has been in the habit of denouncing all Whigs who join in the Republican movement as corrupt, dishonest, and in every respect morally unclean. The views which have actuated them in their movement are very clearly shown in Mr. Washburn's letter, and it is for the public to judge whether they are corrupt or dishonest. The Journal will hardly accuse Mr Washburn of moral turpitude or treachery to principle—and the professions of the thousands honest and consistent Whigs of the present time are certainly as reliable as those of Mr Bancroft.

The editor has himself endorsed the honesty, ability and integrity of our distinguished Representative in Congress, and all the special pleading and legal quibbling, and labored sophistry with which he may attempt to evade the force of the letter, will not enable him to escape from the great weight of Mr Washburn's character and reputation, and from the dilemma position, in this matter, to which he has foolishly placed himself by attempting to blind the eyes of his readers to Mr. Wa's real political sentiments.

Mr. Washburn's letter also completes the overthrow of the Journal in the matter of Luther Severance's views and opinions—by quoting a passage from a private letter from Mr. Severance to Mr. W—confirmatory of the views and feelings which have actuated Mr. Severance.

The Journal has been exceedingly unfortunate on both these cases—but will meet with little sympathy, from the fact that it has brought disaster upon its own head in both instances, by attempting to misappropriate the influence of such names as those of Mr. Severance and Mr. Washburn.

Boston Nine in Six Days—We learn from the New York Evening Post that the New York and Newfoundland Telegraph Company have contracted for the removal of the Merlin rock, lying in the entrance of the harbor of St. John's Newfoundland. There are now eighteen feet of water ving upon the rock at low tide, and as the Collins steamers draw twenty-three feet when loaded, they cannot enter.—When the rock is removed to the depth of twenty-seven feet as is proposed, St. John's will be made a stopping place for European steamers, and the news which they convey be transmitted to Boston by telegraph within six days from the date of the departure of the steamer from Liverpool.

A number of men assembled at the store of Mr Plummer in the new town of Reed, (formerly Patrickstown Plantation,) on one day week before last, and during the evening a quarrel arose between Plummer and a man named Pendy. The latter threw the former down, and jumped upon him, injuring him so badly that he died a few days afterwards.

The Progressive Age says: Plummer had permitted a sawing house for a long time past, in defiance of law and entreaties, and thus brought upon himself his tragical end.

The State of Maine in objecting to the new committee of investigation appointed by the Board of Aldermen, gives as one reason, that certain members of the "lumpers" who have "opposed the Argus" on account of the course it has pursued towards Mayor Dow. It seems to us that these reasons are such who can not appreciate the conduct made by honker to injure the City Government in the mind of the citizens generally.

Dog Killed at Ball—On Monday last two sons of Mr. John D Lord of Ellsworth, aged 8 and 12 years, left home for a fishing excursion, and not returning in proper season a search was commenced in the night, which resulted on Tuesday morning, in finding their bodies at the river, by dragging near the shore. It is supposed the younger had fallen, and the elder at losing his life, both were drowned.

An Interesting Lecture—It will be received by advertisement that Mr. Bird one of the best and most renowned Ventriloquists and Magical Feat performers in the United States, will give one of his pleasing entertainments at City Hall, Monday evening. More than twenty five cents worth of amusement may be had there.

Portland and New York Steamboat Line. A line of steam packets has been regularly established between Portland and New York, as will be seen by an advertisement in another column. This will be a matter of great convenience to the people of Maine who are or may be connected with Portland by railroad.

State Medical Convention.—We see by the Belfast Age that on Wednesday and Thursday of last week this Convention was held in that city. The attendance was small, although many prominent physicians from various parts of the State were present. The whole affair passed off pleasantly.

On the morning of Thursday of last week, Mr. Ariel Hayden hung himself in his own barn. He labored under the apprehension that he was coming to want although he was, really in easy circumstances. His age was 65.

Know Something National Convention. A National Convention of the Know-Something or Free-and Native Americans, is held in Cleveland the present week. Massachusetts is represented by a full delegation, it is said.

Elections—Alabama, Arkansas, Iowa, Kentucky, Missouri and Texas old their elections on the first Monday in August, Tennessee on the first Thursday, and North Carolina on the second Thursday of the same month.

The Coroner's Jury is still in session at Portland. The body of the deceased, John Robbins, is to be forwarded for burial to Deer Isle, at the request of his friends.

Fall Proceed—The fare to Bostop, by the steamers Penobscot and Boston, is now placed at $1.50.

The Watchman—By "A. M." New York H. Long & Brother. 1855

This is a sample but touching story of humble life, the principle hero in which was a personage formerly well known in the city of New York, and generally admired for his honest worth and many virtues. It was Joseph Carter, the humble watchman. Some of the other characters are also from real life. The story is one of great interest and is highly moral in its tone; and while there are many passages of humor and of pathos, the author has studiously avoided anything like overdrawn sentiment.—There is nothing in the book which can minister to the craving for morbid excitement. The moral it inculcates is, that eventual success awaits the efforts of those who earnestly strive to do their duty to God and man. It is a book worthy to rank with the popular story of "The Lamplighter."

Launched—At Gardiner on the 7th, "Anna Peterson," a brig of 281 tons, was launched from the yard of Messrs. S. & J. L. Noyes & Co. at sunset and ready for sea. She is 103 feet long, 27 feet wide, and 13 feet deep, is owned by the builders, Capt. B. Dunbar, who is to take command of her, and C. A. Case & Co. She is built for general coasting business, and is represented to be a substantial craft. The reputation which the Messrs. The Portland Riot—Mr. Dow's Statement.

We publish below, copied from the Portland Advertiser, the principal part of a message which was transmitted to the Board of Aldermen, on Monday, by Mayor Dow, and which was by them adopted and ordered to be published "as a true history of the occurrences of that day and night."

Late in the afternoon intelligence was communicated to the Chief and Assistants that evening meetings were to be held in Lancaster hall, and that arrangements had been made to assemble a mob for the purpose of breaking into the City Agency, and destroying the liquors there contained.

The Mayor and Aldermen did not at that time apprehend that any mob would or could be raised in the city, which it would be beyond the power of the ordinary police force to quell, but early in the evening they thought differently. The City Marshal, with a few police men, some of them with revolvers, and some of them without arms, were directed to enter the room and defend it to the last extremity, and the rest of the police force were directed to be in readiness to assist among the mob, to prevent as much as possible the escape of the persons composing it.

The Mayor and several of the Aldermen sitting at the Mayor's office in the evening, were warned by repeated and urgent messages, that the mob was collecting in great force, exhibiting every appearance of savage ferocity. Messages were then sent to the commanding officers of the Light Guards and the Rifle Guards, and a formal demand was made upon them for their assistance, which, for a consideration in money, they had agreed with a preceding administration to render, as an armed police, whenever they should be called upon by the City Government for that purpose.

Those companies were pallied together hastily at their armories, and were visited there by the Mayor and some of the Aldermen, and formal demand was made upon them for their services and assistance in quelling the mob, as an armed police force, or as citizens in arms, according to their agreement with the City government. The Rifle Guards, first visited, had together one section for cook, and were not suitable, after many efforts and much delay, could be procured in the city.

While the officers of the Rifle Guards were actually employed in the effort to procure the necessary munitions, the Mayor and some of the Aldermen repaired to the armory of the Light Guards, situated in the third story of the City Hall. The members of the company were then assembled in force, and on appeal was at once made to the captain to form and march out without delay. He also was without cartridges, but was told that the apprehension of his company being all conversant with the determined front, and with bayonets, would be sufficient. The captain then left otherwise, and declined to expose his command to the fury of the mob without cartridges. During all this time were heard from below the tumultuous sounds of the mob, the clatter of stones and other missiles, the rattle of broken glass, and the crash of breaking blinds, shutters and doors.

After some delay cartridges were procured, and the muskets were loaded, when about twenty-four men only fell into the ranks with shouldered arms. Again the captain protested against exposing so small a force to the fury of the mob, he did not feel himself justified in so doing, but the reply to him was that half a dozen would be sufficient if they were brave and true men. At the word, the men were marched out, with the captain and Aldermen Brooks and Carleton and myself at their head, but some of the number fell out of the ranks on the way down the stairs and through the crowd.

The Sheriff of the County presented us in the march, and stepping out into the crowd, commanded the people in the name and by the authority of the State to disperse, assuring them they would otherwise be fired upon. But he was answered only by jeers and savage threats from the mob. The Sheriff retired his command several times, and his voice was distinctly heard at the corner of Preble street.

After the members of the Light Guards had taken up their position and faced to the front on Congress street, the crowd was several times commanded by the Mayor also to disperse, with the assurance that otherwise they would be fired upon. The only reply was groans and hisses and showers of stones. By these we were pelted incessantly, and several members of the Guards were struck, and some of them badly hurt, while the muskets were falling around us on every direction, I then ordered them to the walls of the building. Again the captain protested against this exposure of his men to the fury of the mob, and feared a rush of them would be killed, if the order were not given to fire. He was told that we all shared the danger alike, and ordered the fourth time, and another command to the crowd to disperse, which was received as all the others had been, the order was given to the captain to fire by sections from the left. The order was repeated by the commanders, and while the arms were at present the captain asked if he should fire. The reply was "fire at a blank." It was thought that the order to fire would terrify the mob, but the shower of missiles continued as before, with every expression of rage.

As soon as the men received arms without firing, they began to drop off from the left, two men badly hurt, being carried off the ground where they lay, by their comrades, until only some three six or eight muskets remained. The captain was assured, as he had been before in the armory, that we should be supported by the Rifle Guards, who were every moment expected. When our numbers were so greatly reduced, we filed off around the east end of the City Hall, away from the mob, and marched down Middle street, towards the armory of the Rifle Guards. Near the foot of Free street, we met that company marching up in double files, when we fell in on the right, and the order was given to quicken the step.

At this moment, Captain Roberts informed me that his rifles were empty, and he had no bayonets; he had not been able to find cartridges or caps to fit. I communicated this to the captain of the Light Guards, and added that I should take the Rifle Guards into his armory, and arm them with his muskets. If they we accordingly repaired at quick step.

On arriving at the armory, an attempt was made to throw difficulties in the way of our taking the muskets, but they were peremptorily demanded, and Captain Roberts of the Rifle Guards, immediately upon receiving the order, marched his men into the armory, and exchanged his rifles for the muskets. A further delay now occurred in procuring ammunition. A few cartridges were secured, which were lying on the table, and a demand was made upon the captain of the Light Guards for those which his men had. A few cartridges only were recovered. In the meantime the roar of the mob, with the rattle and crash of missiles, and the occasional volleys of pistol shots from the police, came up in mingled confusion from below.

At this juncture, Alderman Libbey came in to the armory from the street, and said if anything was to be done, not a moment should be lost; that the police could not hold out five minutes longer, but would fall a sacrifice to the fury of the mob. The Light Guards were then called out to join us, and one of them fell into our ranks with two or three other citizens, who came forward and volunteered to take muskets when we march d down, sending forward a warning of our coming.

We filed down the steps into Middle street and entered the doors of the Agency on the street, and one of the Guards was struck on the forehead and badly hurt as we entered.—The noise of the infuriated mob outside, and at the door on Congress street, drowned every other sound; nevertheless they were warned that they would be fired upon, and three or four volleys of four shots each were fired. The gas was then lighted in the store, by which the pieces were reloaded from the muskets which the mob, and to protect the members of the Rifle Guards and the police from being struck by them, they were drawn out of the building into Middle street, the door being open, and the whole Congress street was wrested from the mob by forming in column of companies upon the sidewalk, the bristling bayonets upon the rifles which they had been designed for more than two hours. The mob and the armed force remained thus in sight for considerable time, an occasional shot being hurled through the building from Congress street. But the great part of the mob withdrew soon after, and the remainder was cleared out of the streets by the bayonet. It being for the Rifle Guards was at 6 minutes past 12 o'clock, and the building was secured as early as half past 1.

It was from unobjective sources that the mob spirit had been gathering form and, force for a month before it broke out, and that it had been stimulated and fostered by men of influence, who in no way can be said to connect themselves with the. The project had been known in this city early in May, in Boston two weeks before its execution, and it was spoken of in Saco, North Yarmouth, Gorham and Paris on the morning of that day, as I am credibly informed.

The ringleader of the mob, who lost his life in it, was a strong and muscular man a sot or, and had left Boston a day or two before, to avoid an arrest, and I learn on reliable authority, that he was engaged in the King riot, in this city, about five years since. He engaged in this tumult deliberately, having spoken of it in the afternoon, and having taken the advice to keep away from it.

If that infernal mob had accomplished their last object, they would have then marched on the liquors of the Agency, then setting fire to the remainder, would have destroyed the City Hall, for that purpose was avowed—then none but God can know how far their passions would have driven them. I regarded it as the duty of the authorities to uphold the majesty of law.

The Know Nothing Council at Philadelphia—The correspondent of the Springfield Republican, writing from Philadelphia, on Monday evening, says that the Committee on Resolutions reported to the Council on Monday afternoon. The following are the resolutions on slavery:

Resolved, That the American party having arisen on the ruins and in spite of the opposition of the whig and democratic parties, refuses to be held in any manner responsible for the obnoxious acts or avowed principles of those parties. That the systematic agitation of the slavery question by both parties has created such sectional strife, and brought our institutions into peril, that the welfare becomes the imperative duty of the American party to interpose, for the purpose of giving force to the country and perpetuate to the Union. That experience has shown it impossible, with honorable opinions so extreme as those which agitate the disputants, and so intense as to admit of compromise, to submit it to the laws, the national council has declared it as the first guarantee of common justice and of future peace to abide by and maintain the existing laws upon the subject of slavery as a final and conclusive settlement of that subject, in spirit and letter.

Resolved, That regarding it the highest duty to avow these opinions upon a subject so important in distinct, and unequivocal terms, it hereby declared as the sense of the National Council, that Congress possesses no power under the constitution to legislate upon the subject of slavery in the State, or to exclude any State from admission into the Union because its constitution does or does not recognize the abolition of slavery, as a part of its social system, and expressly prohibiting any expression of opinion upon the power of Congress to establish or prohibit slavery in any territory. It is the sense of this National Council that Congress ought not to legislate upon the subject of slavery within the territories of the United States, and that any interference of Congress with slavery as it exists in the District of Columbia would be a violation of the spirit and intention of the compact by which the State of Maryland ceded the District to the United States, and a breach of the national faith.

The majority of the Committee reported the following resolution:

Resolved, That the repeal of the Missouri compromise was an infraction of the plighted faith of the nation, and that it should be restored, and if refused to it at end should fail, Congress should refuse to admit any State tolerating slavery, which shall be formed out of any portion of the territory from which Freedom was excluded by the compromise.

The correspondent of the Republican says:

The minority report was signed by the following members of the Committee: Johnston of Pennsylvania, Sperry of Connecticut, Ford of Ohio, Colby of New Hampshire, Seyward of Maine, Foster of Massachusetts, Greene of Rhode Island, Barrett of Vermont, Coffax of Indiana, Wood of Wisconsin, Coggeshill of Michigan, Phelps of Illinois—12; also by Richard Cleveland of Delaware, and C. D. Dexter of New Jersey, as to the first clause. New York alone, of the free States, went for the majority report. Iowa was not represented. Mr Ransom, to return went with New York; also the District of Columbia; and, now, with the united South, carried the majority report in the Committee.

In the Council, Lallory of N. York sought no discussion was necessary, and unanimously ushed if there was any man there who would not succumb to the will of the majority. Gov. Gardner of Massachusetts took up the gauntlet. He declared that neither he nor Mr Hale nor a majority of the free States would abide by the resolutions first reported. The party could not carry a village of Massachusetts upon them. He charged the New York delegation, with deserting the North, and of even going so far in oughfaceism as to complain to the South that they were conceding too much to the North. Gov Gardner made a bold and caroest speech protesting against the resolutions of the majority.

The Council adjourned to 8 o'clock this evening, when the debate will be resumed. A long and violent discussion is anticipated. The resolutions of the majority of the Committee will undoubtedly pass.

The Earthquake at Brousa—The Rev C N. Righter, at Constantinople, writes to the New York Observer:

From Brousa, we have the most frightful details. Shocks continued all night, and the inhabitants fled from their houses to take refuge in tents. The greater part of the buildings that withstood the first earthquake, were destroyed by his. Fire broke out in four districts and 450 persons perished. The shocks are as I repeated every hour, with more or less violence. The whole city (numbering 100 000) is deserted. The fountains of drinking water have been cut off, and heated water is flowing in the streets. Mount Olympus, near by, gives forth a hissing noise, and at intervals fearful explosions like the sound of many thunders.—The ancient tombs of the sultans on the mountain side have been rent asunder, and precipitated below. The house of Abdel Kader, French prisoner of war, has been destroyed, and he, in great dejection, is encamped under a tent upon the plain. All the European population, and many of the Protestant Armenians have fled to Constantinople. The poor, who have no means of escape are in great distress. The sultan has generously given $15 000 for their relief and despatched several steamers to convey them to the capital. Mussulman, Jews and Christians are alike taken on board the imperial steamers.

Thus this most beautiful and flourishing city of the Turkish Empire is now a scene of utter desolation and distress.

Abdel Kader was the leading spirit in opposition to the French, the Algerian war—he was finally taken prisoner under Louis Philip, and released some years since by Louis Napoleon, on condition that he should never leave port in the waters of the Porte, unless he first obtained the consent of the French government.

Lawson on the Asteroid Orion—The New York Board of Underwriters, with the concurrence of the Board in this city, have published for circulation the letters and charts of Lieut. Maury relating to subjects connected with crossing the Atlantic. In a letter dated from the Observatory at Washington, Lieut. Maury observes:

"I am proud of the approbation, and shall be most happy to co-operate further with gentlemen in procuring the adoption of these lanes by the steamers, and the observance of them by sailing vessels. They have been engraved on the charts of this office, and the navy will observe them. They have also been brought to the notice of the principal governments of Europe; and it is hoped that they also will assist to consecrate these two narrow strips of the ocean to the use of the steamships, as they ply to and fro between this country and that."

—Boston Journal.

A Yankee Benevolence—In May, 1854, the Philadelphia Ledger published an article, stating that the woodcock in New Jersey were building their nests in low ground, which, together with other circumstances questioned, indicated a dry season ahead. These progressions proved to be true; but the best (or worst) part of the story is yet to be told. A large number of our exchanges have recently hashed up the same article and are now, republishing it as applying to this year. We beg to set them right by informing them that the birds alone alluded to have this year nested in their usual localities, and that an unusual dry summer has not looked for to 1855. During the past week we have had abundant showers of rain, as this as we learn from a number of persons, has been the case over nearly all the northern States.—The Am. Agriculturist.

Grey Hair—A twenty mile race in harness, between two horses named Frontier and Spangle, came off on Union Course, Long Island, on Monday, and resulted in the victory of the former. The entire twenty miles was trotted by Frontier in one hour, five minutes, and forty six and a half seconds. The time distance was performed by Spangle in one hour, six minutes, and two and a half seconds, thus losing the race by only sixteen seconds.

Odd Fellows' Hall—The Hall of the Odd Fellows in Granite Block has recently been fitted up in a very neat and comfortable manner under the superintendence of Messrs. Benjamin Swett and L. D. McKenny. The assistant on has kept up during the meeting every week since its organization, some two or three years since and we have no doubt within that time its monies have been made practical in the relief of suffering within the circle of the order.—Journal

Politics—Concord, June 13. James Bell has been nominated, for the Dog, and John P. Hale for the short term in the United States Senate. Election at half past three this P. M.

In Pursuit of Justice—While in the office of the Clerk of the Police Court, yesterday, a dog in low, with a mean countenance, opened the door and timidly announced himself as "Mickey Fahey, sir."

Clerk—"What does 'Mickey Fahey, sir,' want?"

Mickey—"I wants to begin a prosecushun against Mulchy Mulhadson, sir, for slanderder."

Clerk—"Go to a lawyer with your slander."

Mickey—"Ain't you one yer 'tem, sir?"

Clerk—"Go to a lawyer."

Mickey—"Why I be so bowld as to ask you?"

Clerk—"No—go to a lawyer, till him all you know, and that ain't much."

Mickey—"I thank you, sir, for your politeness, but can't I shure him up for selling grog?"

Clerk—"Shove a no up."

Mickey—"Mulhadson, sir."

Clerk—"Clear out—go to a law—go to the—go."

Mickey—"Yes, sir, I will just. Good morning to ye, sir."—Boston Courier.

The K. N. Convention.

NEW YORK, June 14.

Delegates, arriving from Philadelphia, this morning, express a view of the action of the National Council of the K. N. organization of last night, that a full delegation was held this forenoon.

That Mr. Wilson was appointed chairman. Great unanimity of feeling was expressed, and a determination to appeal from the Council to the people in behalf of right principles.

The following address was submitted, signed by a majority present, and ordered to be published:

ADDRESS.

To the Native Citizens of the various States of the United States:

Fellow-citizens of the various States of the United States:

The undersigned citizens of Philadelphia, on the 14th day of June, 1855, in pursuance, and under the existing state of things, adopt the following principles First—The original restoration of that time honored principle known as the Missouri Prohibition, which excluded, in utter disregard of the popular will, slavery from all that territory north of 36° 30' latitude, in which no lapse of time can palliate, and no pretence for its continuance can justify, and which will constitutional means to repeal the act of that congress, and for which it was fostered has been violated by the admission of Kansas and Nebraska into the Union as States, because—That the rights of the citizens to this free, unfettered and undisturbed use of the elective franchise, guaranteed by the constitution under which they are organized, and which protected by the National Executive, should be violated, or threatened, and that we will not consciously act with those who will not in the same manner permit their fellow citizens and their full discussion.

We further declare our continued and determined opposition to the further extension of slavery, and a modification of the Natural Law which has given existence to public sentiment, the true interests of the Union, and the guarantee of the original principles of a Republican Government, freedom, a free Bible, and free schools, by permitting the great work of Americanizing the territories to be finished.

Fifth—That we invoke the aid of legislation for the protection of citizens of foreign birth, from the deportation by the authorities of their native population.

Accidental Death.

HARTFORD, Ct., June 11

A man named Wilson North, gunsmith at Colt's Rifle Factory in this city, was instantly killed this evening, while cutting off a piece of iron at the anvil. A small piece flew off and entered his heart. He belongs at Middletown in this State, and leaves a wife and two children.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, June 14.

A curious story has been in circulation today within a narrow circle, and I give it for what it is worth. The rumor is that during the last session of Congress Messrs. Prentice Kinsman, Cabell, and Bagnor, Flourney and other gentlemen of the south, met in caucus to regret conclave, and the result of the conference was a promise by nearly all of the Whig Congressmen from the slave States to support him with the K. Ns. Messrs. Holcombe, Kerr, and a few others denied and are now actively engaged in fighting for Fillmore, while the others, at least some of them, are scarcely engaged fighting on the side. It is further said that John Bell, of Tenn., was spoken of in connection with the Presidency. He had voted against the Nebraska bill, and that it was thought would make him acceptable to the South while being a southern man, he would be regarded in that section of the country.

First Premium
PIANO FORTES!

WE have received the agency, for the sale of Brown & Allen's Piano Fortes,

which are acknowledged by competent judges to be, in the essential requisites of a Piano, the best now in the country.

Mr Brown was one of the firm of Brown & Hallet, whose Pianos were so long in the market, and are so well known for their durability and purity of tone. He recently ten years foreman in the justly celebrated factory of the late Jonas Chickering, and is perfectly familiar with and applied his PATENTS ON SOUND ACTION.

Piano Fortes of their manufacture are thus supplied for examination, and the adaptability of tone, and unexceptionable touch, to the climate of Eastern Region of Country. Musical Instruments, to the Rhode Island Society for the encouragement of Domestic Industry, holden at Providence, in 15th, 16th, 1854.

"After a careful examination of the workmanship, externally and internally, and other requisites and bearings, we (Committee) feel prepared to say that their Piano Fortes are one of the very best they have ever met with in the course of your extensive pursuits of the progress of Piano Forte manufacture. Their tone is pure, even, full and sympathetic throughout the scale, and powerful without harshness. Their touch is elastic and responsive to the light or heavy touch, each of the actions, with its repetition and check movements, is unexceptionable. In the workmanship and finish of the cases, they are unsurpassed by any we have seen, and we consider them deserving of the highest premium."

☞Read the following certificate from a well known musician and critic.

CERTIFICATE.

To whom it may concern—I have had occasion to use, and to select for many of my friends, Piano Fortes made by Messrs. Brown & Allen, and I do not hesitate to say to you that instruments are not second to those made by any other person or persons in the city, and in many of the more important points, such as purity of tone and evenness of touch, durability, &c., I cannot but prefer to them the preference. I would therefore recommend to those who may wish to purchase, to call at 24 Washington street and examine for themselves.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

THE proprietor of this medicine was himself many years ago, reduced so low as to be given up by his physicians and friends, in the last stage of Consumption. When all hopes of ever getting well had fled, he was strongly recommended to use a Syrup made from wild plants in the woods, which he succeeded in effectually curing him. The family physicians and a large number of respectable gentlemen certified to the facts of this case, and soon the Pulmonic Syrup obtained a reputation never equalled in that section of the country. Creating, as that case did, a sensation second to the only of its nature, Dr Schenck was visited upon by many similarly afflicted, to whom he administered the Syrup with the same beneficial results In fact, such was the notoriety of this medicine, that eminent physicians had their attention drawn toward the rising reputation of it, from having such wonderful curative powers, and feeling offended at the hand of friendship and encouragement to Dr Schenck, had introduced the medicine to the public, and used it in their daily practice

No other medicine operates upon the system in the manner that the Pulmonic Syrup does It produces a healthy act on upon the mucous parts, by relieving them from disease, it promotes the expectorations, clears the throat, opens the matter on the lungs, and when it is discharged, it helps the lungs to throw off the tubercles in the form of ripe purulent, and the first two sound and restores the parts organic to their natural actions, it also soothes the irritated portion of the lungs and their organs, and thereby cures those parts to health A copy of reports from medical possessors will be kept by Capt Hall's steamboats, and also of cases other different to medicine

In 1841 Dr Schenck removed from Huddington New Jersey, to Philadelphia, in consequence of the practice of his profession, and his office being in the same building with Dr Kennedy, he was induced to call on him, and in the course of conversation Dr Kennedy remarked to him that he had in his possession a recipe for making a medicine which he believed would cure Consumption, and that he had been in the habit of putting it up for his patients, and that it had never failed in a single instance to effect a cure, and that he was perfectly satisfied with the world would never be the better for it, for, made of all the ingredients, the sick could not possibly get it, and that, if he could get a physician to put up the recipe, and it proved as strong in every act and tissue of the body

I have left nearly the last of his family, his nationality I will name above, but one after another were consigned to the silent tomb by this fell destroyer

VOLUNTARY TESTIMONY.

We, the undersigned, residents of Hampton, do hereby certify that we are well acquainted with Dr. H Schenck He was attacked by disease, which, as we believe, terminated in Pulmonary Consumption, under the operation of which he was reduced so low as to be unable to leave his bed for a long time, and to all appearance he must soon die. He is now perfectly well—his cough and fever have left him, and he is restored to health, which we believe to be entirely owing to the use of the Pulmonic Syrup

At this time there is not a town or village in the United States, but in which can be found more or less wonderful cures by the use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup.

Dr Schenck is the inventor of the celebrated Mandrake Pills, which are a powerful and searching cathartic, and are generally taken when the Pulmonic Syrup is used.

Radway's Regulators.

The Third Great Medical Discovery of Radway & Co.

ONE REGULATOR is sufficient to regulate the bowels, Liver and Pancreas, to a healthy discharge of their functions

Two will restore a pleasant discharge from the Bowels, at a regular period of time every day

Four to six will purge thoroughly all corrupt and acrimonious humors from the alimentary canal

Important to Pill Takers.

Every one who is in the habit of taking pills will find RADWAY'S REGULATOR the most pleasant, safe, and effectual cathartic of the Materia Medica, Botanic, Pandreas, and the most certain Purge for all the Bowels to use.

One of Radway's Regulators is superior in point of intrinsic strength and efficacy, to any of the most popular and best approved cathartic pills.

Radway's Regulator.

Radway's Resolvents are most carefully prepared from extracts and gums of roots, plants, herbs and barks. These extracts pills are made in Hard Gum Pills, Powders, Bowels the Solitary Glands and Nerves, so speedily relief to health as the R R R Resolvents. No physician should be without them in his practice, as they are the best remedy in the known world for purifying the blood, and restoring the health of the system.

Both of these preparations are the Great Remedies for the cure of Consumption, which will have been on hereafter known by the name of Radway's Regulators and Resolvents.

Regulators vs. Pills.

We are continually asked, What is the difference between Radway's Regulators and ordinary pills?

We answer that pills, as they are ordinarily prepared and sold by dealers in manufacturers, are generally of two kinds—those which operate on the bowels purely, called purgative pills, and those which operate the secretion of the liver, and are called alterative or tonic pills. Radway's Regulators resemble pills in every, in shape, but differ in every other characteristic. They act not only on the bowels, but on the liver, skin, pancreas, and kidneys, regulating each organ to a healthy action. They are not drastic and nevergive pain as most purgative pills do. they stimulate the liver without endangering the patient with salivation, as no mercurial pills do. containing no mercurials in their composition, they are harmless when used for a length of time. They are tasteless, being enveloped in an elegant coating of gum. In 3 gallons, 3 to 6 purge—good as all times

As a Family Physic

RADWAY'S REGULATORS are the most luminous, safe, mild and pleasant physic in use. They are a quick and certain cure for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Kidney Complaint, Jaundice, Head Aches, Nervousness, Melancholy, Dizziness of the Bladder,

Female Complaints,

TESTIMONY FROM MAINE

Capt Daniel Webb, Franklin, Maine, July 1, 1854, says, "I was taken sick one year ago last April, upon my passage from Havana to Charleston, S C At the latter place I took medicine and received a physician, but for ten days could obtain no relief from sleep or appetite At last taking up a newspaper containing your advertisement of the Hoofland's German Bitters, I sent for some immediately This was about 11 o'clock, at 4 o'clock I took the first dose, and another at 6 o'clock. The effect was so rapid on me that I had a good appetite for supper, and rested well that night, and the next day found me a well man—I have not been without your medicine since, having been sailing between Baltimore, Charleston, and the West India Islands ever since I have now given up going to sea and reside on this place, where you should have an agency, as you could sell large quantities of it"

Jas B Hall & Co, Presque Isle, Aroostook Co., Maine, April 24, 1854, say "We herewith send you a certificate of a cure performed by the use of only one bottle of the German Bitters We think Mr Clark to be a man of veracity, and have no doubt of the truth of his story"

Messrs J. B. Hall & Co.—Gentlemen—In answer to your inquiries I will state that my daughter, aged about 16 years, has been complaining of a pain in her side for six or seven years, and about the first of January last was taken down and confined to her bed That pain in her side was very severe, besides being troubled with pains between her shoulders and in her breast. Upon reading a number of cures performed by "Hoofland's German Bitters, I was induced to try them in her case, and sent to your store and purchased one bottle. She had taken but a few days when she began to improve and now, after taking only one bottle, she is enjoying better health than she has for years. She feels no pain in her side or in any part of her body, and attributes her cure entirely to the German Bitters WILLIAM CLARK.

Salmon Brook, Aroostook Co, Me

You should bear in mind that these Bitters are entirely vegetable, thereby possessing advantages over most all the preparations recommended for similar diseases
